

Using the Walla Walla Food Pantries

There are four food pantries in Walla Walla that provide food to members of the community. They are the Pantry Shelf (First Presbyterian Church) the Salvation Army, and St. Vincent de Paul. Helpline serves only as an emergency food pantry.

To receive food from the pantries, persons must first go to Helpline to pick up a monthly access card. The card gives location address and available times for each pantry.

Blue Mountain Action Council is the agency responsible for delivery of food to the individual pantries.

Where Does BMAC Get the Food?

Shelf stable food such as canned tuna and pasta come to us from community food drives, USDA surplus food or direct purchase from 2nd Harvest using donated money. Fresh vegetables and dairy products are supplied by farmers and local gardeners. In addition, grocery retailers generously donate food throughout the year.

Inside the BMAC Food Warehouse
